

DANIELSON AND PUTNAM NEWS

DANIELSON

Here is the first item at the "beer-for-medical" regulations, insofar as Danielson is concerned. A local druggist said Wednesday: "No, we are not going to take out any permit to handle beer. We never have taken out a permit to sell liquors on prescription since prohibition went into effect. The arrangement would be a nuisance to us. If the government wants to surround the sale of liquors and beer with such stringent regulations, let the government also handle the sale of it; we do not care to."

Patrons of the Orpheum theatre were regaled with a sparkling minstrel attraction with a cast of home players Wednesday evening when the Minstrel Troupe of 1921 were staged under the direction of Charles (Billie) Russell and Miss Deborah Thornton, local professionals, who were with the Gamble of 1921 company during the season that closed early this summer. Entertainers who have upon numerous occasions in the past pleased the local theatregoing public were included in the cast, and each had something of special interest to offer. Sidney P. Marland was interlocutor, with Bert Gremont, Ralph Shenales, Henry Bodo and James Harney as ends. Miss D. C. Thornton was musical director. There was an attractive orange and black setting for the overture, during which a number of song specialties and other features were introduced, the numbers including "The Gamble of 1921," opened by the entire company, which numbered 35; Down Yonder, James Harney; Nesle, Miss Alice Duhamel; Tucky Home, Bert Gremont; Hawaiian Twilight, Mrs. Henry Bodo; Moonlight, Miss Lena Koberge; Nice People, Henry Bodo; Don't Be Cross With Me, Romeo Bodo; closing chorus, entire company. The second part included vocal selections by James Harney, solo, tenor; monologue, Bert Gremont.

"DIAPEPSIN" ENDS STOMACH MISERY FOR MILLIONS

Every year regularly more than a million stomach sufferers in the United States, England and Canada take Pepp's Diapepsin, and realize not only immediate, but lasting relief. This harmless antacid helps digest anything you eat and overcomes a sour, gassy or out-of-order stomach in five minutes. If your meals don't fit comfortably, or what you eat lies like a lump of lead in your stomach, or if you have heartburn, that is a sign of indigestion. Get from your druggist a sixty-cent case of Pepp's Diapepsin. There will be no sour risings, no belching of undigested food mixed with acid, no gas or heartburn, no fullness or heavy feeling in the stomach, no nausea, headache or intestinal griping. Prove to yourself in five minutes that your stomach is as good as any; that there is nothing really wrong. Stop this food fermentation and begin eating what you want without fear of discomfort or indigestion.

Wednesday morning the fire department was called out to extinguish a fire upon the roof of the house of Everett T. Cullingham, North Main street. The blaze had the making of a dangerous fire at the arrival of the firemen, but it was quickly extinguished without doing any serious damage to the structure. Sparks from a chimney are believed to have caused the fire.

Attention of world war veterans who have not received the Victory medals to which they are entitled is being called by local officials of the American Legion. The first of these medals were distributed hereabouts on Armistice day of last year, the presentation ceremony being made a feature of the observance of the day. Those who hope to receive one must file their applications by the end of this month. The medals are of bronze, of attractive design, and fine remembrances of stormy days in the nation's history. Some of the medals which have recently come through to ex-service men have bronze bars appended, each bar being inscribed with the name of an engagement in which the receiver participated.

Capt. A. P. Woodward, who was, inspector of small arms practice, was in New Haven on Wednesday to attend a meeting of a group that is promoting the organization of veterans of the Connecticut Home guards, organized in this state during the period of the war to replace national guard units that were called into active service. Captain Woodward was the only delegate from this immediate section of the state to Wednesday's conference in New Haven.

Rumor was interesting itself Wednesday with the purported prospect of a large silk concern coming here to locate. This story has persisted for nearly a week but has not been verified by anyone connected with the new vacant plant that it is reported is to be taken over. However, Danielson would welcome the addition of a silk industry to its present manufactures, as adding to their diversification.

Wednesday morning the funeral of Patrick Fitzgerald was held at his home in Goodyear, with services at St. Joseph's church in Danville at 8 o'clock. Rev. Ignatius Kost, being celebrant, of the high mass of requiem. The body was taken to Jewett City, where Mr. Fitzgerald formerly lived, for burial in St. Mary's cemetery. Louis E. Kennedy was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. J. Clark in Canterbury Wednesday afternoon a funeral service for Olive Stevens was conducted by Rev. Robert Humphrey of Canterbury; the service being attended by many relatives and friends. Burial was in the Hyde cemetery. Louis E. Kennedy was the funeral director.

A pair of shoes taken to a local cobbler to be mended lay among a pile of shoes awaiting repair when the party who owned them came in and inquired for them—that a roll of $40 might be taken from the top of one where it had been hidden weeks ago for safe keeping—and then forgotten until after the shoes had been sent away. The money was safe in its hiding place when the time to extract it came.

Schools of Killingly, including the high school, will be closed on Friday of this week to permit teachers to attend some one of the teachers' conventions to be held at different points throughout the state. The majority of Killingly's teachers will attend the convention at Norwich.

William McDermott, who is making his headquarters at Grand Rapids, Mich., while representing a firm by which he is employed in that section, writes that business in that part of the country has been slow but is showing material improvement at the present time.

Temple bands, Arab patrols, floats and other attractions will feature the Shriners' parade in which a body of local men will participate at Norwich Saturday afternoon. Numbers of spectators from Danielson have planned to see the parade.

For the first time this season, Jack Frost laid an icy hand on all of this territory Wednesday morning when, at 7 o'clock, the mercury in the registering thermometer at the Woodward store showed 18 degrees above zero, and this mark was duplicated at a number of places in town. Ice of the thickness of half dollars formerly so plentiful gathered on small pools of water.

Scores of people were at the Congregational church vestry Wednesday at noon to partake of a nectoleet harvest dinner, a fall feature at the church.

Remarkably well maintained attendance and constantly increasing attendance mark the progress of the mission being conducted by Rev. F. T. Ledwith, M. S. of Hartford, for the English-speaking people of St. James' parish.

There will be a drill of the members of the Supply company, 192d field artillery, at the state armory this (Thursday) evening. This will be the first of the Thursday night drills. Hereafter the company will drill two evenings each week—Tuesdays and Thursdays.

Potatoes, shipped in here in carloads last, were being offered Wednesday for $1.50 per bushel.

A meeting of the Killingly local of the New England Milk Producers' association is scheduled to be held here on the evening of Nov. 7. A similar meeting is to be held at Brooklyn on the afternoon of Nov. 7.

Many of Killingly's dog owners are clamoring for the removal of the quarantine against dogs, which has been in force since early in August, and what is true in Killingly also is true in Brooklyn, where the quarantine also is being enforced.

There is prospect of adjustment during the present week in the case of William A. Burrows vs. Frank A. Davis' case to a property sale on Railroad square, the matter recently receiving the attention of the superior court.

Work on construction of dwelling houses on Franklin street is being rushed so that they may be closed in before real cold weather arrives.

One would be surprised to know the exact number of Killingly motorists who are carrying revolvers in their cars at the present time, it is said. The weapons are made a part of an auto kit as a protection against holdups that are becoming altogether too numerous, though this particular territory has been very free of such happenings.

Copies of the bogus Fourth degree K. of C. oath that has been exposed for what it is—anti-Catholic propaganda—so many times that it seems everyone should know of its origin and nature, are being circulated in Danielson, coming through the mails from Washington. It is said, it is represented as appearing in the Congressional Record, but no explanation comes with the circular to state the circumstances under which it appears therein nor that it has been officially branded as an outrageous fraud, intended to appeal to bigotry and foment dissension.

Durham.—Mr. and Mrs. Irving Beck, with of Chester, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Fannie May, to Fred Thody of Durham.

PUTNAM

What is believed will remove all obstacles to the town's accepting the devise of the Gardner homestead, on South Main street, under the will of Mary Wadsworth Gardner, was the signing by Miss Fannie Barber of Wednesday morning of a waiver of claims as beneficiary of the residuum of the estate left conditionally to the town, providing that the town did not seek to accept the property. When the matter of accepting the property, valued at fifteen to twenty thousand dollars, came before the town meeting this month there was opposition to the estate being accepted, it meant the removal of the library from its present quarters in the municipal building. The signing of a waiver of her rights to the property in the event that it is not used as a library, abrogates the condition and the town may now accept it without maintaining a library on the premises. Miss Barber's only stipulations were that any income from the property, or in the event of its sale, the money should be used for library purposes, also that a tablet in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Gardner be maintained in Putnam's public library, wherever it may be located.

Mrs. Gardner, widow of John L. Gardner, died in June 1920. She made a number of specific gifts to friends and made her niece, Miss Barber, residuary legatee of her estate, which was quite large. Miss Barber, whose home is in Willington, had made her home with Mrs. Gardner for some time and had cared for her in her illness. In the will she was the devise to the town of the homestead, which extends from South Main street, and comprises not only the land but two dwellings. The condition under which the property was devised was that it, or a part of it, be used for library purposes as a memorial to herself and husband.

Some time ago it was voted to remove the Putnam public library to the municipal building on the west side of the Quinebaug river. Apparently many people living in the vicinity believe that if the town accepted the Gardner property the library would be moved again to the east side of the river. There was a large attendance at the annual town meeting when the question was to be voted upon. It was apparent that there would be considerable opposition if the question was put to vote. It was stated in the meeting that the condition of accepting the property was that it be used for library purposes. When the question was to be voted upon, it was stated that the condition was that it be used for library purposes. When the question was to be voted upon, it was stated that the condition was that it be used for library purposes.

How Old Are You By Your Hair?

You may be only thirty, but if bald-headed, gray, or your hair is brittle, scraggly and ugly-looking, people will surely take you to be much older. If you want a lot of good-looking hair the roots must be immediately vitalized and kept properly nourished. To do this quickly and safely, get from the Lee & Gogood Co. a bottle of Parisian sage. A little attention now will insure plenty of beautiful hair for years to come.

Parisian sage is guaranteed to keep away all dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair and stimulate a new growth, or money refunded. It's in great demand by discriminating women because it makes the hair soft, lustrous, easy to arrange attractively and appear much heavier than it really is.

Parisian sage is easy to use, not sticky, and daintily perfumed—an antiseptic, clean liquid that supplies all hair needs.

ing as National Father and Son Week throughout the United States. The International Sunday School Association, The Boy Scouts of America and the Y. M. C. A. are making joint plans to celebrate this week in station wide way and all branches of the organizations as well as all other boys' organizations are being urged to get together locally and participate in this observance of Father and Son Week.

This is a time of specially designated week such as Thrift Week, Clean-up Week, Fire Prevention Wk., Safety First Week, etc. Not the least of the many weeks thus set aside is Father and Son Week, Nov. 6 to 12.

The main purpose of Father and Son Week is to call attention to a national wide way of fathers to a realization of their parental obligations and privileges, and to call the attention of sons to a realization of, and a deeper respect for, their fathers and homes. Furthermore, in order to help all those interested in boys to lead both fathers and sons to a better mutual understanding of their problems, hopes and ambitions, to the end that they will be able to be more helpful to each other in the solving of their problems and the realization of their hopes and ambitions.

Plans are under way for the observance of Father and Son Week in the several towns of Windham county. All those interested are being asked to get in touch with the County Y. M. C. A.
